U.S. Cloak-and-Dagger Agent Nabs Red Spies

NEW YORK (UPI) — Richard A. Flink, 27, and his two companions were inconspicuous in the Greenwich Village crowds, playing pinball in coffee houses, taking in films at the art houses or simply strolling on the New York University campus.

Except that Flink was a counterespionage for the FBI and his two "friends" were Russian espionage agents. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy revealed to the nation during the weekend Flink's role in trapping the two Soviet spies.

"I didn't think the government was going to say anything about it," Flink said. "I figured that if they intended to release it they would have done it right after these men were kicked out of the country."

The Russians were identified by the Justice Department in Washington as Yuri A. Mishukov, 31, and Yuri V. Zaitsev, 38, employed by the Soviet United Nations delegation.

Flink, married and a new father, met the Russians in 1959 at a Soviet Trade Fair in New York. Casual meetings with the two men developed into a friendship with Mishukov.

College Activity Is Underway

PALM DESERT — A dream of McGahey and John F. Outcault long standing came true this (Ray Rummels is touring Russia morning when more than 500 students) — saw the students whom young people gathered on the Colley and earlier board members had been planning and working for since valley voters authorized the junior college in 1958.

At 9 a.m. Dr. McCall addressed his student body for the first time. The dedicated educator for more than three years has been spearheading the development of the College of the Desert. It was an introduction has been long in coming.

50 Trapped In Belgium Building

Eighteen Injured, Four Dead in Structure Collapse

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UPI) — A four-story government building weakened by excavation work next door cracked and collapsed "like a house of cards" with about 50 persons inside today.

Rescue officials reported four bodies had been found and 18 persons had been injured in the collapse of the Economic Affairs Ministry building.

Red Cross officials and police set the number of missing at 17, including 13 office employees and four workers at the adjacent construction site. But government officials said some of these persons may have fled the scene in panic or may not have shown up for work.

Many of the forms used in the national census last December were destroyed in the collapse, making it virtually certain that a new census would have to be held.

Officials said the collapse apparently was caused when a bulldozer working on the construction next door undermined the government structure.

Survivors said they first felt a slight tremor, and a number of them dashed into the street. Seconds later, one side of the building crumpled. The floors sagged, pitching people and office furniture into a giant mound.

The four floors, unhinged on one side, fell down like flaps on the one remaining wall. The overhanging walls hampered rescue work.

Several priests went through the wreckage administering the last rites.

King Baudouin, fresh from a Spanish vacation, hurried to the scene in the heart of his capital city.

Patron Overpays But He's Guilty Of Petty Theft

When does overpayment for a product constitute petty theft?

When the product is beer and it's purchased after 2 a.m.

It happened about 2:30 Sunday morning. Clerk Bert Grishan told Palm Springs Police officers that a male subject picked up a quart of beer from the refrigerator and, when told he couldn't purchase that particular item at that particular hour, threw a dollar bill on the counter and stalked out.

If apprehended, the suspect will be booked on petty theft.

After Dr. McCall's speech a flag raising ceremony was held.

The college's 35-member faculty then met informally with students, and, later in the day, Dr. Edwin T. Ingles, dean of instruction, was to introduce individual faculty members to the assembled student body.

Tuesday and Wednesday students will return to the campus for individual consultation with assigned advisers.

Registration for students not already enrolled will continue today.

Jacobson managing director of the International Monetary Fund, said today that "formidable lines of defense" protect the dollar and remove any possible need for an increase in the price of gold.

Jacobson, a highly regarded Swedish economist, lined up solidly behind the U.S. view that gold guarantees for foreign dollar holders need "no merit" and that the official U.S. gold price should remain at $35 an ounce.

WARSAW (UPI) — A group of Southern California agriculturalists were scheduled to leave here today for Berlin and the German portion of their People-to-People tour of several European nations.

The farmers, led by Lionel Steinberg of Palm Springs, Calif., spent the weekend visiting Polish agricultural areas and sightseeing in the Polish capital.

CHICAGO (UPI) — The National Farmers Organization NFO, fresh from strategy meetings, today carried its fight for higher market prices into what may be the crucial week.

The NFO, in the face of signs that its 16-state "all-out holding action" on livestock was failing, once again urged farmers to keep their cattle, hogs and sheep off the markets.

LAS VEGAS (UPI) — Entertainer Judy Garland's daughter was rushed to Sunrise Hospital here today suffering from food poisoning.

The last day for late full time students to register is Sept. 28.

The Palm Desert campus still is scarred with construction. Workers swarm in, on and around buildings in the final push to have classrooms ready when instruction begins. Nevertheless, the valley is about to have its college — and a good one.

Seven California Fliers On Nine-Man Space Team

Two Civilians Selected With 7 Service Men

By United Press International

Seven California airmen, including veteran X15 rocket plane Pilot Neil Armstrong, dominated the list of nine new U.S. astronauts introduced to the nation today. One of them probably will be the first American to set foot on the moon.

The Californians are:

Neil Armstrong, Little Rock.

Frank Borman, Edwards Air Force Base.

Charles Conrad, Rancho Santa Fe.

James McDivitt, Edwards

Elliott See, Lancaster.

Thomas Stafford, Edwards Air Force Base.

John Young, Miramar Naval Air Station.

The second generation of space-men includes three Navy and four Air Force officers and two civilian test pilots. The original seven astronauts all were military men.

The new astronauts were presented at Houston, site of the manned Spacecraft Center where preparations are being made for the two-man Gemini space flights and the ultimate goal—the Apollo three-man flight to the moon.

The nine new astronauts and their backgrounds are:

—Neil Armstrong, 32, Wapakoneta, Ohio, a veteran civilian test pilot for the National Aeronautics and Space Agency on the X15 rocket plane program at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

—Air Force Maj. Frank Borman, 34, Gary, Ind., research pilot instructor who has 3,600 hours of jet flying time.

—Navy Lt. Charles Conrad Jr., 32, Philadelphia, a former flight squadron safety officer with 1,500 hours of jet flight time.

Former Instructor

—Navy Lt. Cmdr. James A. Lovell, 34, Cleveland, former flight instructor and also a former flight safety officer. He has 2,300 hours of flying time, including 1,600 hours in jets.

—Air Force Capt. James A. McDivitt, 33, Chicago, an experimental flight test officer who has logged 2,500 hours of flying time including 2,000 hours in jets.

—Elliott M. See Jr., 35, Dallas, Tex., civilian experimental test pilot for General Electric Co. He has more than 3,200 hours in the air, including 2,300 hours in jets.

—Air Force Capt. Thomas P. Stafford, 32, Weatherford, Okla., a test pilot with more than 3,500 hours of flying time, including 2,500 hours in jets.

—Air Force Capt. Edward H. White II, 32, San Antonio, Tex., an experimental flight test pilot with 2,900 hours of flight time, including 1,700 hours in jets.

Navy Lt. Cmdr. John W. Young, 32, San Francisco, a one-time maintenance officer who has logged 2,300 hours of flying time, 1,600 hours of it in jet craft.

Numerous TV Sets Purloined

Palm Springs Police are awaiting an inventory to determine the extent of burglary at the Palm Springs Music Company store, a department spokesman said this morning, after Howard Morris of the store reported the grand theft Saturday morning.

According to the initial report, Morris told police that "numerous TV sets" were missing when he made a store check. Morris said that the burglary must have occurred sometime between Aug. 1 and 23.

Brown, Nixon Schedule One Joint Appearance

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Negotiators for Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Richard M. Nixon Sunday agreed to complete radio and television coverage of their Oct.

1 meeting before a national conference of United Press International editors and publishers.

Warren Christopher, representing the governor, and Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, announced the agreement following a two-hour meeting here.

The UPI meeting at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco apparently will be the only joint appearance by the two candidates for governor before the Nov. 6 election. The meeting will include a one-hour program during which Brown and Nixon will be questioned by delegates to the UPI conference.

Efforts to stage television debates between the two candidates were abandoned because of disagreement over ground rules.

New Resignation At Angel View

DESERT HOT SPRINGS—Resignation of John Mack, treasurer of Angel View Crippled Children's Foundation, was announced here today by its president, Sam Bentton.

Mack, manager of the local Bank of America was serving his second three-year term as a board member. His present term of office expires in November 1964.

In his letter of resignation, Mack did not reveal any specific reason for his action.

Board member Robert Biegler was appointed treasurer pro-tem.

New York Stocks at Closing

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks closed around their highest levels of the day today.

Chrysler spurred more than 2 while American Motors picked up a good fraction to reach a new high for 1962. Most chemicals and international oils inched up fractions and steels stayed narrowly jumbled despite a 2.5 per cent industry output rise last week.

General Foods and Procter & Gamble managed point gains and United Aircraft, up nearly 1%, led aircrafts forward and rounded out the broader blue chip moves.

Russia Sincere

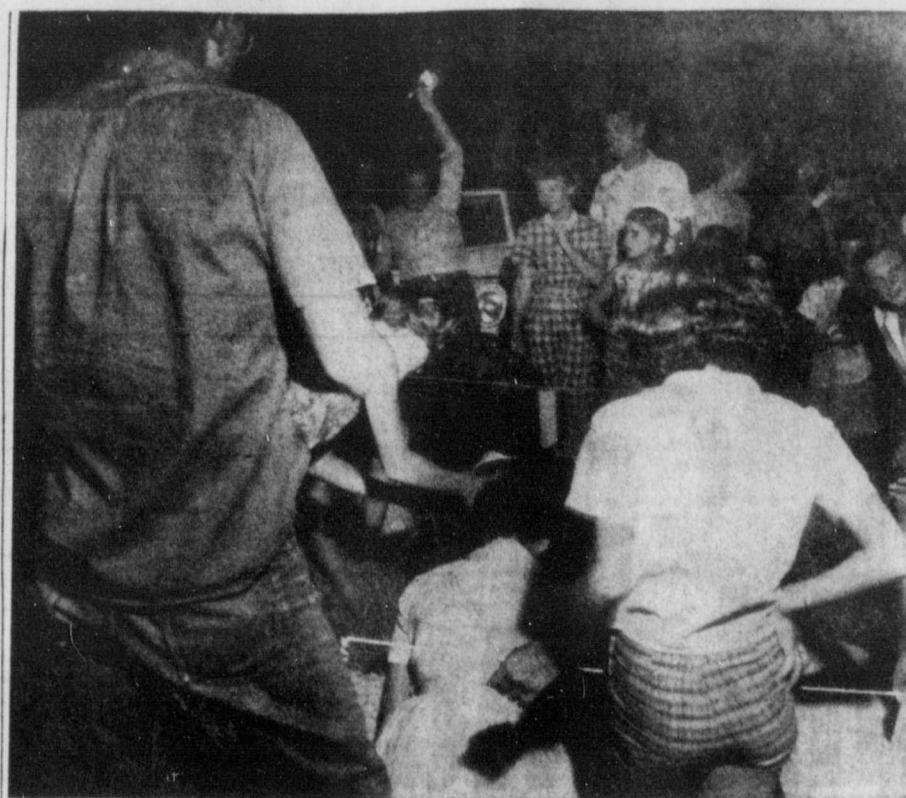

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chief U.S. disarmament negotiator Arthur Dean said Sunday he believed Russia genuinely wanted disarmament because it realized the tragedy and futility of all-out nuclear war.

Dean said in a television interview that the Geneva test ban tanks were far from collapse and there had been "real and significant progress" recently despite continued deadlock.

Yucca Boy Dies After Road Crash

YUCCA VALLEY — Two teenage boys were thrown from a motor scooter Sunday about 2:15 p.m. in a traffic mishap resulting in death for one and serious injuries for the other. The accident occurred at the intersection of Pueblo Trail and Joshua Lane here.

Lee Arndt, 14, died in St. Bernardino's Hospital, San Bernardino, an hour after the accident, while the driver of the scooter, Charles H. Hokstra, 13, of 8055 Aster Street, Yucca Valley, received a broken arm in the crash, according to the California Highway Patrol. Both youngsters were taken to Banning's Pass Hospital, and Arndt was transferred to the San Bernardino Hospital where he died.

CHP Patrolman Keith McMorrow of the 29 Palms office, who investigated the crash, said that the scooter was traveling west on Pueblo Trail here when hit broadside by a car driven by John N. Wotherspoon, 38, 61-019 B & J Ave., 29 Palms, which headed south of Joshua Lane.

McMorrow reported that studies showed the scooter was dragged 118 feet after the impact with both occupants of the scooter thrown off.

Garland Now Okay

LAS VEGAS (UPI)—Entertainer Judy Garland, 39, apparently suffering no adverse effects from a painful kidney ailment, plans to open her engagement Tuesday night at the Sahara Club in Las Vegas.

The singer-actress was rushed to a hospital in Carson City Friday afternoon after she was found lying unconscious at a friend's Lake Tahoe home, where she had been vacationing for four weeks.

Dr. Richard Grundy said Miss Garland was suffering from acute pyelonephritis in the right kidney, which produces a severe pain similar to kidney stones.

The singer-actress was rushed to a hospital in Carson City Friday afternoon after she was found lying unconscious at a friend's Lake Tahoe home, where she had been vacationing for four weeks.

Dr. Kermit Osserman, flew to Nevada from New York City Friday night and confirmed the diagnosis. He said she was hospitalized for a similar ailment in 1961 and called him two weeks ago to complain that she was having minor pains.

"This was an unnecessary trip for me," Osserman added.

Dr. Grundy administered sedatives and antibiotics and said Miss Garland rallied quickly in the first few hours.

She was discharged from the hospital Saturday and left for Las Vegas to keep her engagement there.

"I'm feeling fine and I want to go back to work, if my kidney keeps behaving," she said.

Judy was expected to remain in Nevada long enough to obtain a divorce from her third husband, producer Sid Luft, who guided the one-time child star to a successful comeback in the past decade.

La Quinta Pair Injured in Sunday Collision

INDIO — A La Quinta couple escaped with minor injuries at 3:35 p.m. Sunday when they were thrown from their car in a traffic collision here, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The pair were thrown from a vehicle driven by Betty Buchanan when it was struck on Burr St., at Miles Ave. by a car driven by Celia Quatman Luna, 37, of 84-111 Manilla Ave., Indio, CHP investigators reported.

The report stated the money clip was engraved with "Honor Thy Mother and Father."

On Labor

Mexican imports of fruits and vegetables presents a major problem to desert area farmers, and contrariwise, the Washington administration's handling of the bracero campaign threatens harvesting schedules in the desert counties, Martin reported.

"Great power and the willingness to use it" are the keys to continued freedom and American leadership toward a world political atmosphere that "can make possible self-determination."

Martin, speaking for his own candidacy after Senator Tower left the Riviera's Mediterranean Room called for "a return to local governmental responsibility," and a parental consciousness to "install in our children and ourselves the

There is not sufficient itinerant American labor to handle mass harvests, Martin reported.

"Tear jerker bureaucrats have used the plight of itinerants to get the braceros phased out," Martin said, charging the development was farm labor-keyed.

Two Desert Hot Springs Sisters Excellent Cooks

Share a Love
For Making
Fine Foods

By ELLEN SAUNDERS

The moment you step into the pink-tiled kitchen at 12781 Inaja, Desert Hot Springs, where Mrs. A. O. (Eva) Galvin and her sister, Mrs. Rose Klein, reign supreme, you know you are in the home of two women who love to cook.

It isn't just the tantalizing odor of freshly baked strudel or cheese rolls cooling on a rack — it's the double ovens, the immense freezer, and the two giant refrigerators that tell you this is a place where food is lovingly prepared in generous quantities for the many friends who will gather around the large dining table in the adjoining room.

'Feel of Our Fingers'

These two gentle women, whose soft speech reminds you that they spent many years in the Deep South, were flabbergasted when asked how they make the delicious cakes and rolls which have graced the tables of Temple Nove Sholom on so many occasions.

"Neither Rose nor I ever measure anything with a spoon," Mrs. Galvin explained; "we know by the feel of our fingers when we have the right amount. I don't like to give a recipe to a friend because I don't know how to tell them to measure. Sometimes they insist on trying anyhow, and the result is often disastrous."

Then she had an inspiration. "Come up and watch me make

HOME MAKING and FASHIONS

Edited by Lee Christopher

The Desert Sun 3

Strudel

1½ cups all-purpose flour
½ stick of butter or margarine
½ tsp. baking powder
3 Tbs. vegetable shortening
1 egg
Juice of ½ oranges
Pinch of salt
½ cup finely chopped nuts
¼ cup raisins
Cinnamon
Granulated sugar
1 large pat of butter
Enough jam to cover strudel dough generously. (If strawberry jam is used, sprinkle with small amount of lemon juice.)

Sift baking powder and salt with flour. Cut the ½ stick of butter and the vegetable shortening into small bits, and blend into flour with fingertips until mixture feels slightly damp. Add the whole egg and orange juice. Knead dough gently until it does not stick to pan; divide into two even portions. The dough may be chilled for one hour or rolled out at once on a lightly floured board until it has the thickness of pie crust. Spread dough liberally with jam, and sprinkle with nuts, raisins, cinnamon and sugar. Cut butter pat into small bits and distribute over dough.

Roll dough up lengthwise on both sides until it meets in the center. Place in pan and bake at 375 degrees for 40 to 45 minutes or until strudel is nicely browned. Makes two small strudels.

Girlhood in Lithuania

As Mrs. Galvin worked, Mrs. Klein wandered in and out of the kitchen chatting about the many years which have passed since she and her sister were girls together in Lithuania.

"There were five of us girls," she said, "and mother taught us all to cook. I came to America first, and by the time Eva arrived, I was already married."

"Rose was living in Alabama when I arrived," Mrs. Galvin explained. "I was 16 at the time, and the next year I got married. So I had to cook, and when you have to do something, you do it."

The two sisters' lives are parallel in many respects. Both have four married children. Both have been widowed (Mrs. Galvin married her present husband, a retired attorney, several years ago.) Both are great-grandmothers; Mrs. Galvin has six grandchildren, Mrs. Klein, nine.

Love To Travel

As their families prospered, the sisters discovered a mutual love of travel, and as early as 1934, they began to come from Alabama to spend their summers in a then smog-free Los Angeles.

By 1940, they were living in California. Attracted to Desert Hot Springs by the mineral baths, they built a home there in 1958.

"The year after we came here," said Mrs. Galvin, "I was elected president of the Sisterhood of Temple Nove Sholom, and with the help of all the members, Rose and I put on some very successful dinners. At one of them, we raised $2,000 for the temple.

Those now-famous dinners included such delicacies as gefulfe fish, chicken, brisket of beef, and butter beans.

"Give her the recipe for butter beans," urged Mrs. Klein. "That's real Old Country — just the way mother used to make them."

Butter beans, in case you don't know, are the same as California's limas, and here is her recipe, which serves four:

Old Country Butter Beans

½ lb. dried butter beans
1 large onion, chopped
1 Tbs. chicken fat or butter
Chicken or beef gravy

Salt and pepper to taste
Boil beans until half cooked. Meanwhile, fry onion in chicken fat or butter until golden brown. Add to beans. Stir in seasonings, and cover with chicken or beef gravy. Add tabasco sauce if desired. Pour into casserole, and bake at 375 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes.

The sponge cake is one which Mrs. Galvin likes to serve on holidays, such as the approaching Yom Kippur.

Sponge Cake

9 eggs
1 cup sugar
½ cup orange juice
1 Tbs. grated lemon rind
1 Tbs. grated orange rind
½ cup flour
1 level tsp. baking powder

Separate eggs. Add ½ cup of the sugar to egg whites and beat until stiff. Add remainder of the sugar to yolks. Add orange juice and orange and lemon rind. Cream together either in an electric mixer or by hand until mixture is thick, fluffy, and lemon colored.

Sift together flour and baking powder three times. Fold alternate spoonfuls of flour and egg whites into egg yolks. Place one-half of mixture in 9-inch tube pan, sprinkle with cinnamon and granulated sugar. Top with remaining mixture. Bake at 325 degrees for 40 minutes; then bake at 350 degrees for 10 to 15 minutes.

"You could buy canned beef gravy," I suggested.

"Not us," they both chorused. "We have been slowing up the past few years, but we still buy very little canned goods. We can all our own fruits and make all our jams and jellies."

"And we have never bought a mix of any kind," boasted Mrs. Galvin. "Which reminds me — I want to give you my recipe for sponge cake before you go. It's very good."

"And I," said Mrs. Klein, "want you to take this recipe for coffee cake which is so simple my son-in-law makes it."

Quick Coffee Cake

1 egg, beaten
½ cup sugar
1-3 cup milk
2 Tbs. melted butter
1 cup flour
½ tsp. salt
2 tsp. baking powder
Mix ingredients well and pour into 8-inch greased cake tin.

Topping

1 tsp. cinnamon
½ cup chopped nuts
1 Tbs. flour
1 Tbs. melted butter
cup brown sugar
Combine ingredients for topping and sprinkle over cake mixture.

HAM COOKED IN CHAMPAGNE is made just for elegant parties, dinners, and buffets. Trimmed with olives and pimientos, it can be a colorful addition to your table, and whether served hot or cold, has a rare delicious flavor. Keep it in mind for your entertaining during the coming holidays; serve with potatoes au gratin, cucumbers in sour cream, a salad, and pastries.

DELICACY COMES ALREADY PREPARED

Ham Cooked in Champagne for Entertaining

Now that the season is beginning to get under way, desert hostesses are beginning to turn the oven — allowing it to heat at 325 degrees, 15 minutes per pound.

To prepare the beautiful tray shown here, remove all the champagne aspic from the ham. Heat the aspic until it is melted and smooth. Strain to remove meat particles and cool until it is slightly thick. Spread the aspic over the ham, saving a small amount to cover decorations. Decorate with tiny pieces and strips of champagne aspic.

The following buffet menu is suggested:

Horoscope Forecast

Tuesday, September 18, 1962

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The morning is good for deciding any practical problems you may have left undone. Later you find you have a very good chance to meet people who stand with serious minded personalities. Don't get upset at some dramatic or startling events that occur since you will find they later rebound to your credit.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Morning is ideal for handling monetary affairs wisely, but you must use extreme care in dealing with friends in P.M., and also while on the road. Letters may bring problems. Be calm.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Think over what you truly desire in A.M., since the evening can be very trying with loved one. Be sure you do not irk your superior. Have fun inexpensively in P.M. It will be sufficient to soothe wounded pride.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Handle those very personal affairs in A.M. Later, get together with new contacts for any business at hand, but take care you do not risk close ties. Be wise in social affairs in P.M.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — A.M. is best for conferring with others about how to get ahead faster, but evening should be spent looking for better methods of operating. Take time for fun with good friends.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Be steady in carrying through with worldly affairs in A.M. The evening then brings real cooperation from associates. Be economical. Do not invest heavily, concentrate on the idealistic.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — Morning is ideal for improving appearance, but tonight you must do something helpful for others. Cooperate with fellow-workers and partners. Benefits follow.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Keep busily occupied handling obligations and business affairs in A.M., but take care you do not sit down and fret in P.M. Activity solves all. This pleases higher-ups and they give support.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Talking over matters of policy with associates brings fine results in A.M. Take care that you avoid talkative friend in the evening. Think of welfare of family instead.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Try to do your work during cool, morning hours so that in the evening you can handle other interests wisely. Get data you need from newspaper. Have fun with close ties in P.M.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Morning gives you an opportunity to come to meeting of minds with kin over some long-standing point of contention. Forget worries. Evening can be ideal with mate.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Contact regular partners in A.M., and come to an understanding. Avoid the one who has a chip on his shoulder. Seek better methods for handling problems in P.M.

If Your Child Is Born Today, He, or she, will be one of those wise people who will want to find the right niche early in life so that there can be real sense of security. It is up to you to assist your progeny in this. Later, the interest changes to more creative outlets and there can be a fine lecturer or sales person in the chart. Good, solid success and citizenship here.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to "you".

It is Still the Greatest Document

Today marks the first day of Constitution Week, so proclaimed by President Kennedy in observance of the 175th anniversary of that great document which was completed on September 17, 1787, and signed by 39 of the 55 delegates present.

Today, also by Presidential proclamation, is Citizenship Day, and the two go together. The Constitution made the kind of citizenship we are enjoying today possible almost two centuries ago. It might be well to give a thought to this and the meaning of the document which became the foundation of a great nation on this date in 1787 and which enabled this nation to become the greatest during the years since then.

Thomas Jefferson also spoke of the need of amendments.

But these amendments were to be by the people which constitute the government.

The Constitution has also figured prominently in the decisions of the Supreme Court which has also become the center of controversy because of the divergence of opinion between the so-called liberals and conservatives.

The late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes had this to say on the Supreme Court:

"A constitution is made for people of fundamentally different views and the accident of our finding certain opinions natural and familiar or novel and even shocking ought not to conclude our judgment upon the question whether statutes embodying them conflict with the Constitution of the United States."

Amendments may be necessary from time to time and there is a way provided to make them safely.

The fundamental ideas behind the Constitution as drawn 175 years ago today, however, still endure.

And this is what should be remembered this day. Because these fundamentals are what made this country great.

All Is Not Quiet on Western Front

California's growing importance in the national political picture was indicated again this past weekend and this time right in our own back yard.

Orville Freeman, Secretary of Agriculture, was in Indio Sunday and was the honored guest at a dinner meeting at the Indio Bowl, intended primarily for growers but attended by most of the political leaders of the Democratic party.

For the Secretary was not there to discuss bigger and better crops and how to grow them.

He was there to talk bigger and better Democrats and how to grow them.

Apparently California looms big in the Democratic eye.

President Kennedy was in the state not so long ago on a "non-political" visit. He is expected back before the general election in November but this next visit won't have the "non" before the "political."

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

How Space Policy Is Made Final

WASHINGTON, D. C.—American policy in space represents a voluntary, one-way "disengagement" by which we decline to compete militarily with our Cold War enemy.

There are other areas, such as the Antarctic Continent and Austria, where we have agreed to neutralization by treaty. In a different sense, the Administration is trying, and the Republican party has partially agreed through General Eisenhower, to "neutralize" the 1962 Congressional elections and not to fight the Cold War policies in political debate before the American people.

It is easy to see how Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy would wish for "peace" with all their hearts, for the most terrible decisions come to rest at the White House. But it is harder to see how this wishfulness in mature men can lead them to act in direct contradiction to the facts, which tell us that the Cold War must be fought on every conceivable front—military, scientific, political, economic and anywhere else that we can join battle with our sworn enemies.

Space is the field where all may be won or lost. Yet the headquarters of this command—the Space Council—is purposely kept barren of military men and military thinking.

Dr. Edward C. Welsh, Executive Secretary of the Space Council, is a fine and able civilian administrator with impressive kudos in academic and governmental work. With degrees from three universities, with Phi Beta Kappa, Beta Gamma Sigma and Pi Delta Epsilon honors, with twelve years of university teaching and important posts in Government since 1957, Dr. Welsh was a good choice of President Kennedy, assuming that the Space Council is to be civilian-oriented.

In building his staff, Dr. Welsh hewed strictly to the Administration policy of de-militarization. He did bring in one Navy officer with special knowledge of the Space field, but this officer is on "reimbursable pay" status, meaning that he is on loan from the Navy Department but not its representative. The other top staffers come from the aerospace industry. The engine man comes from Douglas, the chief flight engineer from Chance Vought. Another engineer was head of his own small business. Like Dr. Welsh, they are fully competent in their fields, but are not equipped for imaginative military thinking as, for example, a man like Admiral Rickover would be.

When the Space Council meets as a body, it is usually in Vice President Johnson's office. Less formal meetings bring together specialists from the State and Defense Departments, NASA, and the Atomic Energy Commission. Sometimes policy makers and opinion givers from several agencies are brought in for consultation. This was the case in July, 1961, when at the President's personal request, a policy and legislation were worked out for the communications satellite known as Telstar. The Attorney General, the Federal Communications Commission chairman, and the administrator of the Office of Emergency Planning cooperated with the regular Space Council members to bring about this peaceful use of Space.

Question Arises

But the question rises—would not the USA be in better competitive shape for the Cold War if the same concentration were brought to bear on Space weaponry? We would hope not to use nuclear weapons, of course, in Space or anywhere else. But it required a major battle within the Truman Administration to get this country armed with the H-bomb only a few months ahead of the Russians. What will our fate be if we awake one morning to hear that Russia, or possibly Red China, has put a nuclear weapon in Space?

PICKET

Dear Abby . . .

R. F. "Phat" GRAETINGER

With all the new gadgets That make living better, Why do they use staples To fasten a letter?

Like the Palm Springs man-about-town who told me once that going on the water wagon was easy, he did it seven times a week, I find that vowing to abstain from words which I wouldn't want my grandsons to hear, is equally easy. I do that more than seven times a week.

THE reason my noble resolve to be more moderate in expressing myself is so often shattered, is justifiable.

It's staples.

I don't mean those nails with points on both ends that are bent into the shape of an upside-down letter U.

I mean those staples that are in that thing on office desks which you pound to hold pieces of paper together if that seems advisable.

THIS KIND of a staple is very useful, too, besides keeping Sheet Two getting lost from Sheet One when you can't get all you want to say on one page.

Like when the elasticity forsakes the waist band of your shorts and you sneak the stapler into the men's powder room and after proper precautions to avoid maiming yourself, press once or twice on the folded cloth and you've got a fit as good as any tailor could do.

BUT SOME PEOPLE, notably service club public relations persons or compilers of mimeographed propaganda or information, are too free with their staplers. Instead of folding their product neatly and thrusting it into an envelope for mailing, they just fold it.

Write the address on the outside, stick it under the gadget, give the handle a whack, and that's that. It doesn't save the cost of a stamp or writing the address but it does save an envelope.

THEN THE FOLDED paper reaches my desk, eventually, and I pick at the tight ends of the staple. Before it becomes loose enough to pull through, I've stuck my finger twice and split a finger nail or two.

The reason I do that, use my fingers to try to rip it off, is because some low-life has swiped, borrowed, he says, my letter opener.

AND that isn't all. Some cleaning establishments, to identify your pants from all of the others submitted for an overhaul, staple a tag on them.

In the most unreasonable, inconvenient and hidden spot they can find, too. You don't see it until it becomes loose.

Then you feel it.

DEAR ABBY: I answered an ad in the newspaper and am now having second thoughts about it. A retired gentleman, 62 and a semi-invalid, advertised for an unmarried woman between 30 and 45 who could drive a car and travel with him. It further stated that she must have a pleasant personality and dress well. He requested that she enclose a recent photograph of herself. The position, it stated, paid very well and would be a pleasure for the right woman. How can I check up on this man if he decides to hire me?

DEAR ABBY: My husband owns a small bar and makes a nice living from it, but he has to work from 12 noon until 2 in the morning six days a week. Maybe I shouldn't complain because he doesn't gamble, drink or chase women, but we have four kids who don't even know they've got a father. I would like to have my husband home for supper at least two nights a week. We tried getting a relief bartender, but he 704 Broadway C.C. Phone 328-4333

Rams 'Blow' NFL Football Game To Baltimore Colts, 30 to 27

BALTIMORE (UPI)—The Los Angeles Rams displayed some able to hold on. The injury was first diagnosed as a break, but later as a severe sprain above his right ankle. Arnett will undergo X-rays today.

The Rams recovered a Colt fumble on the opening kickoff on the Baltimore 29—and couldn't score.

The Colts rolled up a 13-0 lead early in the second quarter.

After Bass scored a touchdown on a six-yard burst Baltimore made it 16-7 on Dick Bielski's field goal before the half ended.

But the suddenly potent Rams scored on Danny Villanueva's 10-yard field goal and took the lead after Zeke Bratkowski hit Ollie Matson with a 20-yard touchdown aerial and Villanueva converted.

Another Villanueva field goal, a 24-yarder, and Bass' second touchdown run put them ahead 27-16.

Arnett Hurt

It was a bad day all around for Los Angeles. Halfback Jon Arnett, who never has missed a league game in his six seasons, was injured when tackled in the final quarter. He was taken from

Dodgers Peek at Magic Number for NL Pennant

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—The Los Angeles Dodgers backed a game closer to the National League pennant Sunday.

Perennial Dodger beater Bob Buhl pitched the Chicago Cubs to a 5-0 victory over Los Angeles at Wrigley Field in the Windy City to clip the Dodgers' seven-game win streak. But thanks to the San Francisco Giants' fifth consecutive loss the Los Angeles magic number was cut to eight for a tie and nine for sole possession of the flag.

This means that any combination of eight Dodger wins and Giant losses gives Los Angeles at least a tie for the championship. Any combination of nine gives the Dodgers their first title since 1959.

Los Angeles opens a three-game series with Milwaukee tonight and would like to cut the magic digits down to a notch with a victory. The Dodgers are scheduled to use Pete Richert (5-3) to pitch, while Warren Spahn (14-14) is to work for the Braves.

Maury Wills was caught stealing Sunday, for the second time in three days against the Cubs. He singled to lead off the game, but was cut down at second by Chicago catcher Moe Thacker. So

Angels Now Appear As 'Wrong-way' Corrigans

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—One of the mysteries to baseball fans is why the Los Angeles Angels play so well on the road and so poorly at home.

When Los Angeles dropped a 4-2 decision to the Detroit Tigers Sunday at Chavez Ravine it was the fifth straight home loss for the Angels of their current home stand.

At the moment the Angels have a 38-38 home record but own a 44-31 record on the road.

If the club had an identical home record with its road standing, the Angels would be fighting the New York Yankees for first place.

Instead, Los Angeles still clings to third place 6½ games behind New York but the rampaging Chicago White Sox now are only three games behind the Angels and if Manager Bill Rigney does not snap his athletes out of their slump, they could drop to fourth or worse.

The Angels had a day off today to rest before hosting the Baltimore Orioles in a two-game series starting Tuesday.

About the only bright note in Sunday's contest was the appearance of Ken McBride on the mound for the first time since Aug. 3 when he was stricken with pleurisy.

McBride took the loss but it was a creditable effort for four innings during which he limited the Tigers to three hits and one run. He tired, however, in the fifth when he gave up four hits and three runs before being replaced by rookie Fred Newman who in his first major league appearance retired the side.

For the Tigers, pitcher Phil Regan, although he lasted only one inning more than McBride, notched his 10th win and drove in two runs which was Detroit's margin of victory.

Regan shut out the Angels for five innings but weakened in the sixth when he loaded the bases on a single and a pair of walks. Manager Bob Scheffing immediately replaced him with reliever Ron Nischwitz who retired the side but not before two runs had scored.

In the fifth inning when the Tigers scored three runs, doubles by catcher Dick Brown and Regan were the big blows.

Barnes Seems Happy Over UCLA Squad

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—UCLA began its third week of fall football practice today, and the Bruins still have plenty of time to go before their season-opening game on Oct. 6 against Ohio State in the Coliseum.

And though UCLA is making a switch from 13 years of the single wing to the T-formation, coach Bill Barnes said Sunday the team's progress after two weeks has been such that "on any given Saturday we can beat anyone in the country."
